CIRCULATION.
As more than any other paper in Salina County.

CITY AND COUNTY.

Wasn't that a grand rain yesterday and last night?

The city council meets in regular session next Monday night.

Mrs. G. W. Newman is visiting her daughter Mrs. McManus in Texas.

Claude, infant son of C. D. and Mary E. Frain died at Crown Point, March 29, aged 24 days.

Work upon changing the track of the Lincoln branch has been commenced in good earnest.

Mr. W. P. Helcher, of Teacott, was married at Abilene, Monday, to Miss Alice See, of this city.

Capt. H. D. Baker spent Monday night at home—having just returned from the Oklahoma country.

The Republican has passed into the hands of Mrs. Jennie B. Simons. Mr. Brady remains as editor.

Charley Culp, student in the St. Louis Medical college, is taking home comforts in large doses.

Is it probable that before long lights will be substituted throughout the city for the street gas lamps.

"The grandest rain we have had for over two years," is the exclamation of all. The county is aflood.

Ben W. Hanna of Salina, has been appointed to a $1,000 clerkship in the adjutant general's office at Washington.

The county commissioners have appointed Charles Hanna constable of Smoky View township, to fill vacancy.

The Salvationists have of late held forth at Post's auction stand. That place is now dubbed "Post's Synagogue."

The Park has been nicely cleaned up, and the Park Commissioner should have a long credit mark for its appearance.

Thos. Tinkler has been appointed by the county commissioners, treasurer of Gypsum township, to succeed F. M. Hedrick.

W. T. Robinson, of the Glenwood (La.) Opinion, has been in the city on business connected with his former property—the Republican.

An old saying has been so paraphrased in connection with the applicants for city offices as to read: "Many called, but few were chosen."

Capt. W. W. Bartlett writes from Salem, Oregon, that he is in the real estate business. During the past month his firm sold thirty-six farms.

Among those who think of going down to Oklahoma to prospect a little are: Messrs. Wheeler, D. R. Wagstaff, H. S. Cunningham, H. D. Baker.

The county commissioners have approved the following bonds: W. C. Sherrill, constable; A. Wellington, justice; and Charley Hanna, constable.

Capt. Henry Baker has returned from his trip to Dakota. He is not all pleased with that country. He will go in a few days to take a look at Oklahoma.

The Claire Patee theatrical troupe left for their costumes and stage effects in the fire which destroyed the Grand Opera House at St. Joe, Mo. Loss fully $5,000.

The application of John P. Eckstrand, druggist of Bridgeport, for a liquor permit was denied by the probate judge—his application lacking the required number of freeholders.

A non-resident lawyer complaints Justice Wellington with having the best kept books and most systematically arranged papers of any justice he has met in Kansas.

The heavy rain last night prevented much of an attendance at the Boston Stars' entertainment. The few who attended pronounce it the finest performance of the kind ever given here.

To-day is fixed as Arbor day—by proclamation of the Governor. If you can't plant a tree, plant some of the fifty resolutions in your back alley where they will never again be resurrected.

The following Salina county cases have been disposed of by the supreme court of the state: J. B. Johns, et al. vs. Hester A. Hester, affirmed; Ely Thomas vs. George Baker, reversed.

The following mention is made of Mr. Colby, the artist, in the Chicago Inter-Ocean:

George E. Colby and wife have been receiving their friends this week at the Sherman. Next week they resume their wedding journey toward Europe.

Superintendent Brinkerhoff, of the Union Pacific, states that arrangements are about complete for the running of the Altou trains over this division to Cheyenne and of the Union Pacific over the Altou to Chicago—Topeka Capital-Commonwealth.

Hon. Geo. F. Little, of Junction City, was in the city Tuesday. He had some thought of purchasing Mr. Moser's interest in the Republican property, but gave it up. He narrowly escaped being a newspaper contempt. He would naturally take the title of Rev. Little.

Sol. Huffman, bailiff at the District Court, was entertaining his hearers the other day with a story of the captivity of himself and mother among the Indians of Oregon. He was but two years old, but he gives a thrilling account of the affair, as detailed by his mother.

The peach blossom has appeared in great quantities—an unusual sight in this country, and a pretty sure indication that we shall have a good crop of peaches. The blossom of the peach is the first to appear. No doubt the blossom of the plum is but a little ways behind.

The Central Kansas Creamery Association was in session yesterday. A number of people prominent in the business were present, read some interesting papers, or delivered some good remarks. Among the number was Col. T. D. Curtis, of Chicago. We shall give the proceedings next week.

Matt Simpson was beaten for member of the Board of Education in McPherson by 39 majority, by a Mrs. Curry. As Matt is an equal suffrage advocate, he cannot complain, and should take his own prescription gracefully. A. T. Siggins, formerly of Salina, was elected a member of the board.

Alfred Dewitt has been admitted to the practice of the law by the District Court. He is a promising young man, of the best of character, and we expect to see him rise in his profession. To start with he is an applicant for the position of U. S. court commissioner in Oklahoma, and is well endorsed for the place.

"How do you like the city appointments?" was asked us. We could only answer our honest belief: Some of them good, some of them bad, some of them indifferent. Without particularizing, we will say that after six months service we can then state more definitely as to whether our first estimate was or was not good.

Lorrie Hamilton, after making a short visit, returned with his family to his new home, Ft. Worth, Texas. He is very much pleased with his location. Upon first arrival J. W. Wells was introduced to citizens as "Col. Wells," and he universally bears that title. Jim should come at Lorrie with retaliatory measures, and affix "Ma" permanently to the latter's name.

The Herald office was sold Monday at chattel mortgage sale to Dr. N. D. Tobey for $1,499. The Doctor is a stalwart Democrat, and the improvement has gained ground that the Herald hereafter will be a strict party organ—not a mugwump sort of an institution as it has been in the past. It will probably now have the hearty, united support of the Democratic party, which it has never had before.

Henry Liebert brings us a copy of the Exposition de Paris, containing particularly a description and sectional illustrations of the tallest tower on earth, the Eiffel tower of Paris, which is 1178 feet high. Accompanying the paper is a large diagram of the exposition grounds. The buildings are evidently more extensive and handsome than were those of the exposition of 1875, and are upon an entirely different plan.

Messrs. Wallerius, Henry and John Kraft, and Judge Prescott made application to the county superintendent to have their respective farms south of Salina detached from the Salina school district. The basis of their application was that when their property was attached to the district they did not have the school conveniences which have since been conferred by the construction of a school house in their immediate neighborhood, and they now have a desire to patronize their own school. The case came up Saturday, but at the urgent request of C. G. Wilmarth, President of the Board of Education, it was continued to next week.

The New City Council.

The first business meeting of the new City Council took place Monday night. All the members were present. The council met at a board of canvassers, and went through the vote for justices and constables—declaring A. Wellington and R. H. Sherrill elected as justices and W. C. Sherrill and J. D. M. Conrad as constables. The council then met in regular session. R. P. Cravens was elected president of the council on the ninth ballot—the ballots up to that time being distributed among C. B. Kirtland, D. Whitehead and himself. A communication from Wakeeney concerning the purchase of the old Babcock fire engine was read, and referred to Mr. Flock, the chief of the fire department, to answer. The police judge's bond, signed by the president and cashier of the Citizens' bank, was read and approved. After this act, the council went into executive session. The following standing committees were appointed by the mayor:

Ways and Means—Cravens, Godfrey and Bristol.
Claims—Cravens, Bristol and Kirtland.
Corporations and Franchises—Kirtland, Bristol and Cravens.
Sidewalks—Stice, Whitehead and Jackson.
Building—Bristol, Whitehead and Green.
Health—Godfrey, Cravens and Green.
Fire Department—Jackson, Stice and Kirtland.
Streets and Alleys—Whitehead, Godfrey and Bristol.
Expenditures—Bristol, Kirtland and Cravens.

The mayor then made the following appointments, which were confirmed:

Clerk, John L. Bishop; attorney, W. T. Frazier; marshal, R. J. Williams; assistant marshal, M. T. Damm; street commissioner, John Damm.

There is implanted in the breast of man an inordinate desire to accumulate. So long as fortune favors him and money rolls into his coffers, he is a happy, happy individual, and at peace with all his fellows. When money, on the other hand, flows from his pockets into those of his fellows, and the drain exhausts his resources, he immediately loses his good nature and becomes a vigorous and persistent "kicker." Yordy from Lincoln county, so the testimony runs, so long as the gain seemed on his side, did not hesitate to become familiar with Charles Pearsall, the confidence man, and take a chance at his game. When he thought he was a winner, the teams was not too fast nor the whip too active to get him from Pearsall's presence, for fear he might be compelled to repay his supposed loan; but when he discovered he was a loser, the minutes were long, and the hours too, to place Pearsall in the clutches of the law. Of course, there was evidence enough to bind Pearsall over to the district court in the sum of $300, but there is no power to prevent Yordy and other "innocent ducks" from patronizing circus lotteries, street fakirs, and confidence men who travel in the cars and on the public highways.

The G. A. R. Boys' Fraternity. There is a statute making it obligatory upon the executives of cities, and other officers empowered to make appointments, to appoint old soldiers in preference to those who have not served in the army—provided they are qualified to fill the places they seek. The statute provides a severe penalty for a violation of its provisions, and those holding the places in such violation of the statute are liable to be ousted therefrom. At the meeting of the John A. Logan Post, G. A. R., Tuesday night, by almost unanimous vote, a committee was appointed to call upon the mayor and demand an explanation why the statute was violated in his recent appointments. It seems that old soldiers were applicants for every office (except one) he had to confer, and only one (Tuttle) was appointed. He was made assistant marshal—an office he made no application for. With the same unanimity, a committee was appointed to confer with some lawyer belonging to the post, with reference to ousting such officers as have been appointed in violation of the statute.

The Randolph. Messrs. Craver, Steele and Austin, manufacturers of the celebrated Randolph Headers, at Grinnell, Iowa, are very fortunate in having so energetic a salesman as A. J. Holmquist at Salina, the heart of the Golden Belt. Where region, where the Randolph is so heartily and fully appreciated for the thousand and one merits of which it can boast. The above firm is also very fortunate in having for its General Agent, James L. Wilson—a gentleman in every sense of the word, courteous to all alike, and reckoned as one of the most substantial of Salina's citizens, and universally esteemed. The Randolph will come very near doing the business of this section. The special attention of the farmers is invited to the large advertisement of the Randolph in this issue.

The pupils of Prof. W. H. Packard assisted by Mr. Joseph Phillip will give a musical at the residence of John Anderson, N. W. corner of Santa Fe and South street, this evening, April 11. All lovers of music invited. The following is the programme:

Philomel Polka Kunkel
Gloss of Sunshine, Richard W. Woodard
La Sylphide Nettie Ober
Dainty Lightfoot Marie Wilson
Sunday Morn'g Eva Cunningham
Heart's First Love Ruth Phillips
Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep Trombone Solo

GAYOTTE MARCH MAUDE PRESCOTT
ALPHIE ANDERSON
La Tremolo BIRDE WATSON
Norma Fantasia EMILY DELLEVILLE
Souvenir de Baden Leonard
Zampa, duette BELLEVILLE AND WELLINGTON
MISS BELLEVILLE AND WELLINGTON.

At the home of the bride's parents in Smoky Hill township, Monday afternoon, Mr. Francis A. King, son of D. E. King of Walnut Township, was married to Miss Bertha Swartz, daughter of Theo. Schwartz, trustee of Smoky Hill township—Rev. Wm. Foulkes being the officiating clergyman. A large company of friends was present, the usual liberal hospitalities of this pleasant home were extended, and amid the merry festivities there was no lack of warm wishes for the future health, wealth and happiness of the happy and esteemed couple.

Lutheran Reception.

The spacious Lutheran church was filled with members and invited friends from sister churches last Friday evening to greet Rev. and Mrs. Maggart, the new pastor and his wife. The church was handsomely decorated with flowers and the lecture room was transformed into a veritable bower of beauty. The Lutheran ladies had changed the bare walls into lovely alcoves filled with trailing vines and fragrant plants and draped with lace curtains so that it really seemed like a palatial drawing room. The programme was opened by a magnificent voluntary solo by Prof. Packard, followed by Salina's sweetest singers, Messrs. Shute, Wildman, and J. D. Wilson, with Mrs. Miller as accompanist on the piano. Prayer by Rev. Dunaway of the first Baptist church. Music by the male choir, after which W. H. Grim, in eloquent language, introduced our new pastor, Rev. C. W. Maggart. The church has been without a pastor since our beloved minister, Rev. G. D. Gotwald, left for Kansas City, and in his remarks Mr. Grim truthfully said, "A church without a pastor is like an army without a leader." After this introduction came the welcome from Rev. Chittenden which was simply perfect. He spoke of the music tokens of love and welcome in the potted plants and fragrant flowers which filled every nook and corner, by the smiling presence of ministers and members from other churches and expressed himself as heartily glad that radical sectarianism was a thing of past years and not of the present. Rev. Chittenden spoke with much enthusiasm of Salina county being the banner county of the state and Salina beyond all comparison with her sister cities. He spoke of Rev. Maggart as a young man and predicted much good from his ministrations in the future. After Rev. Chittenden had finished his address the audience listened to a magnificent piano solo by Miss Amanda Dible, after which Rev. Maggart responded to the introduction and welcome. In behalf of himself and wife he accepted the greetings so heartily tendered. He spoke of the early days when Kansas was thought to be a land of grasshoppers, drought, blizzards and cyclones and untold miseries; that the people here have been tried but not found wanting. Their motto is "Prayer to God in promise, and still the same when the clouds of sorrow and adversity shall come." Rev. Maggart spoke in glowing terms of our little city, and seemed to think that like the queen of Sheba the half has not been told. Rev. and Mrs. Maggart accepted the love and kindness offered by our citizens, and in conclusion asked the prayers of all God's people to aid them in discharge of their pastoral work. After music by the choir Mrs. W. H. Grim and Miss Edith Whitehead favored the large audience with a rare musical treat in the form of an instrumental duet, which concluded the regular programme. Dr. Dewees announced that supper would be served in the adjoining room. The doctor (for a small man) seemed to be ubiquitous here, there and everywhere—a kind word for one, an introduction for another, and by his genial presence and care, every part of the lengthy programme was carried out. But to supper. Some of the gentlemen said they were in love with Lutheran cake, but the coffee made by Mrs. Esther Miller was better than any cake. While the crowd were waiting to go to supper Miss Amanda Dible and others entertained them with vocal music. While we say God bless our new pastor in his work, we must still say once more, we can never forget the dear absent one who thought he was doing God's work in the best way, by taking charge of the Memorial church at Kansas City.

The following syllabus in the supreme court case of J. M. & J. B. Johns vs. Hester A. Head has been published:

The defendants' agent, under clause 193 of the laws of 1872, took two of the plaintiff's cattle into custody. On the next day and before the defendant had any knowledge of the seizure, he being twelve miles away, the plaintiff's agent demanded the surrender of the cattle and tendered to the defendant's agent a time sufficient amount of money to pay all damages and legal charges, and the defendant refused to surrender the cattle upon the ground that he had no authority to do so. On that same day the defendant was charged by the Golden Belt region to what had happened. The defendant gave no notice to the plaintiff's agent or to the plaintiff with respect to the seizure of the cattle, and five days thereafter or at any other time commence any action for damages. Six days after the cattle were taken up the plaintiff demanded the surrender of the cattle, and he in effect though not in specific words refused to surrender the cattle, except upon a condition which was not in law any excuse or justification for keeping them, and afterwards the plaintiff commenced action of replevin to recover the cattle. Held, that the action may be maintained.

At last the "post-office corner" and all the buildings thereunto appertaining is to be blessed with that long-desired innovation—the lowering of the stone sidewalk to the proper grade. Hitherto the JOURNAL hallway has been reached by an abridged path of stairs set in the pavement, hardly with the beauty of a diamond setting—but set there without. The change which is now about to be made has set all prospective damage suits at naught—and with them all the revenue which would accrue upon one's breaking his leg or neck. Glorious be the change! Maybe we are shouting too soon. Perhaps the imperious, autocratic street and sidewalk committee may countermand the order for the innovation.

Mrs. Geo. W. Brillhart and little daughter, Edna May, and Mrs. W. W. Herr went to Salina Saturday afternoon visiting. Little Edna May, while playing with a little friend, was pushed over and sustained a fracture of the collar bone. The party all returned yesterday. The injured little one is resting easily and it is thought that she will soon be about once more—Abilene Reflector.

"Is the Sunday newspaper an injury to the community?" This is the subject for Sunday evening at the Christian church, Rev. C. F. Mortimer, singing by the male quartette. Mrs. F. C. Miller, organist.

Births, Marriages and Deaths.
Dr. Jenney, as health officer, has submitted a report to the county commissioners, which contains many items of interest. From it we learn that during the past year the number of births was as follows: 170—75 males, 95 females, 11 sex not given; 161 were white and 9 colored. The number of deaths was as follows: 43—19 males, 19 females, 5 sex not stated; 39 white, 4 colored. The number of marriages by months was as follows: January 3; February 14; March 10; April 16; May 12; June 9; July 9; August 6; Sept. 11; Oct. 14; Nov. 17; Dec. 27. 93 of the grooms were American; 107 of the brides were American; 37 grooms were foreign born, and 39 brides—24 not reported. 1 groom was under 20 years and 34 brides. 49 grooms and 89 brides were between the ages of 20 and 25. 55 grooms and 30 brides were between the ages of 25 and 30. 29 grooms and 14 brides were between the ages of 30 and 40. 12 grooms and 2 brides were between the ages of 40 and 50, and four grooms were between the ages of 50 and 60. The doctor takes exception to the condition of the county jail, recommending lots of whitewash, use of disinfectants, etc.

A Pleasant Gathering.
Friday evening last the school of S. B. Thompson in Pleasant Valley township closed its term with a public exhibition. An excellent programme had been prepared consisting of dialogues, recitations, etc. The Tobey orchestra from Salina was present, and furnished the music of the occasion. Every feature was most pleasantly presented and the music of our city's organization was received with much satisfaction by all and aided very materially in the exercises. The programme was long drawn out, lasting from 8 o'clock till about 1:30 a. m.—yet none faltered in their interest. The thanks of Mr. McHaffie were tendered musicians and audience in behalf of the school. Among those present from Salina were the following: Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Tobey, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Burford, Mrs. Pearsall, Miss Roberta Johnson, Miss Kelly, Mr. Nicolls, and Prof. C. D. Wagstaff.

District Court.
The following are the important cases which have been tried since our last issue:

L. F. Parsons vs. board of commissioners, verdict for plaintiff $125.40.
Elizabeth S. C. Kelley vs. W. H. Gentry, verdict for plaintiff $1049.00.
Thos. Alley vs. C. K. & W. Ry. Co., verdict for plaintiff $455.12.
H. W. Hoffman vs. C. K. & W. Ry. Co., verdict for plaintiff $137.37.

Upon the petition of Dr. J. W. Jenney an application was made to the District Judge for an injunction restraining the City Council from canvassing the vote cast for the county members of the board of education, and the council did not canvass the vote. We understand, however, that the matter will be dropped, and the canvass will take place.

Mrs. Smythe, of the Public Schools, in company with her husband, leaves for Washington Territory today, in which country Mrs. Smythe will practice law. Miss Kaupke acts as Mrs. Smythe's substitute in the school.

Margaret Wehde died at the residence of her nephew, Frederic Warner, near Trenton, Kansas, April 4, 1899, aged 67 years and 12 days. She was buried at Crown Point. Funeral services by Rev. P. Funk and Kuhn.

Examinations of the candidates for graduation from the district schools of Salina county will be held at Bavaria, Assaria, Gypsum City and New Cambria, Friday, April 23, 1899, commencing promptly at 8 o'clock.

Denton & Co. have moved their office to the room lately vacated by P. Q. Bond, in the Grand Central row.

Normal Notes.
Several trees were planted on Arbor day.

Prof. Norris made a flying trip to Abilene on Monday.

Nine new students have been enrolled so far this week.

Mr. Dowling of Chapman, Kansas, entered school on Tuesday.

Miss Hillman and Miss Lyons of the Wesleyan were visitors on Tuesday.

Mr. Laughlin and daughter and Mrs. Norris of Cambria attended the reunion.

Miss Swearingen and several students from the Wesleyan attended the reunion.

The reunion on Saturday evening was well attended, the programme short, but enjoyed by all.

Prof. and Mrs. Thoroman attended the closing exercises of the school in district 26, just west of town, on Tuesday.

J. M. Downs reports from Clay Center, and says the Normal may expect a good delegation from that place next fall.

Miss Shelley's class in 'Constat' has over twenty members, and Prof. Norman's class in Physiology has about thirty-five members.

Many former students who are teachers of Salina county renewed acquaintance with their classmates on Saturday. They were present at the Teachers' Association.

This term of school surpasses all previous terms in attendance and in the earnest effort that is being put forth by all to make the work a success and to get the most possible out of the time.

Free Lecture.
W. S. Bell will lecture at the Bavaria school house, April 15th, at 8 p. m. Subject Liberty and Morality. All are invited.

T. H. TERRY, Sec. Bavaria Secular Union.
